Buenos Aires

Discover Buenos Aires, birthplace of the tango! Not only will you experience examples of this city's cosmopolitan European elegance such as the Colón Theater and its colorful architecture in the La Boca district, you'll also visit a traditional Argentinean ranch for a Fiesta Gaucha. See gauchos demonstrate their legendary skills on horseback, tour the ranch, experience traditional folkloric songs and dances and enjoy a traditional asado barbecue for lunch. You'll also take an excursion to Tigre including a boat ride along the Paraná Delta, a vast ecological preserve that stretches nearly 200 miles through the country.

Plaza de Mayo
Buenos Aires, Argentina

Iguazu Falls
Misiones, Argentina

Iguazu Falls

Stretching along a nearly two-mile rim shared by Argentina and Brazil is the system of waterfalls known as Iguazu Falls. On the Argentine side, travel to Devil's Gorge and take in the magnificent scenery from the footbridges. On the Brazilian side, learn about the flora and fauna of the tropical forest at the park museum. The park is home to more than 2,000 plant varieties and nearly 400 bird species. Take in the beauty of subtropical plants and trees, including the abundant heart-of-palm. Arrive at the banks of the Iguazu River and venture by motorboat through the Iguazu Canyon. From here, you'll have an unforgettable view of the falls as they plunge into the river.

Optional excursion to Colonia del Sacramento

Take a full-day excursion across the Rio de la Plata to Uruguay and explore the quaint colonial city of Colonia del Sacramento. Originally founded as a Portuguese outpost situated on a strategic waterway, Spain gained control of the fortress in 1777. Now, it is a resort city, a port, and a popular trade center for agriculture. With its quintessential cottages and cobblestone roads, Colonia del Sacramento was named a UNESCO heritage site in 1995. Explore the area's colonial architecture, winding streets and colorfully tiled homes. See the Church of Matriz del Santisimo, the oldest church in Uruguay, as well as the Plaza Mayor, the House of Viceroy and the ruins of a Franciscan convent.
